The Guildford Philharmonic Choir is going through a most distinguished chapter in its history. One can hardly wait for the next event - Elgar's perennially popular 'Dream of Gerontius'.
(Surrey Advertiser, May 2004).

'In Gerontius, we find the fullest expression of all Elgar's many-sided gifts. It is his finest work. From his deepest experience. Elgar created the last great artistic monument of the reign of Queen Victoria and the last of the nineteenth century.'
